

Gerrymandering, voter suppression, disinformation... Do our votes matter anymore? Uncivil War unravels a web of threats to American elections, separates truth from fiction, and exposes a hidden war against democracy itself. Through conversations with experts, politicians, and activists fighting on both sides of the partisan divide, we examine our system of government and search for a way to renew it.

Join the Indiana Coalition for Independent Redistricting for the Indiana premier of Uncivil War, a documentary film directed by Richmond, Indiana native Tom Glynn and featuring coalition leaders Julia Vaughn of Common Cause Indiana and Debbie Asberry of the League of Women Voters of Indiana.
